SATPURA TIGER RESERVE

Jungles of Satpura are one of the oldest reserve forest of India and this Jungle is a vast tranquil protected area within the Satpura Mountain range of Central Indian Landscape; mostly unadulterated from human influence. This unique area is part of first Biosphere reserve of Madhya Pradesh and is endowed with one of the richest biodiversity in Central India, which includes rich floral, faunal and cultural attributes.

Satpura, derived from Sanskrit means "Seven Folds" or “Seven hills”, forms a watershed between the Narmada and Tapti Rivers which is triangular in shape having a unique combination found only here that Sal forests exist on plateau part with the lower plain area having Teak forests. It is also interesting that some species, which are not common elsewhere in Madhya Pradesh are found here.

Location

Satpura Tiger Reserve is situated in Narmadapuram district of Madhya Pradesh. It extends from east to west in southern part of district, located in Satpura ranges of central Indian highlands. Area comes within Itarsi, Sohagpur and Pipariya Tehsils of Narmadapuram district. Area is well known for its rich bio-diversity & rare/endangered floral and faunal species. Famous hill station of M.P., Pachmarhi too is within its bound.

Here’s how you can reach Satpura.

By Road:

Accessible from Bhopal (170 km) and Jabalpur (250 km) via three main gates, Pachmarhi, Madhai, and Tawa.

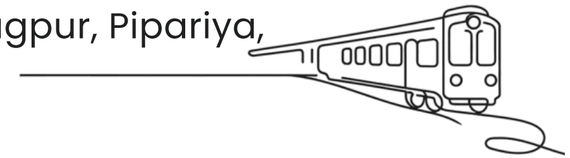

By Flight:

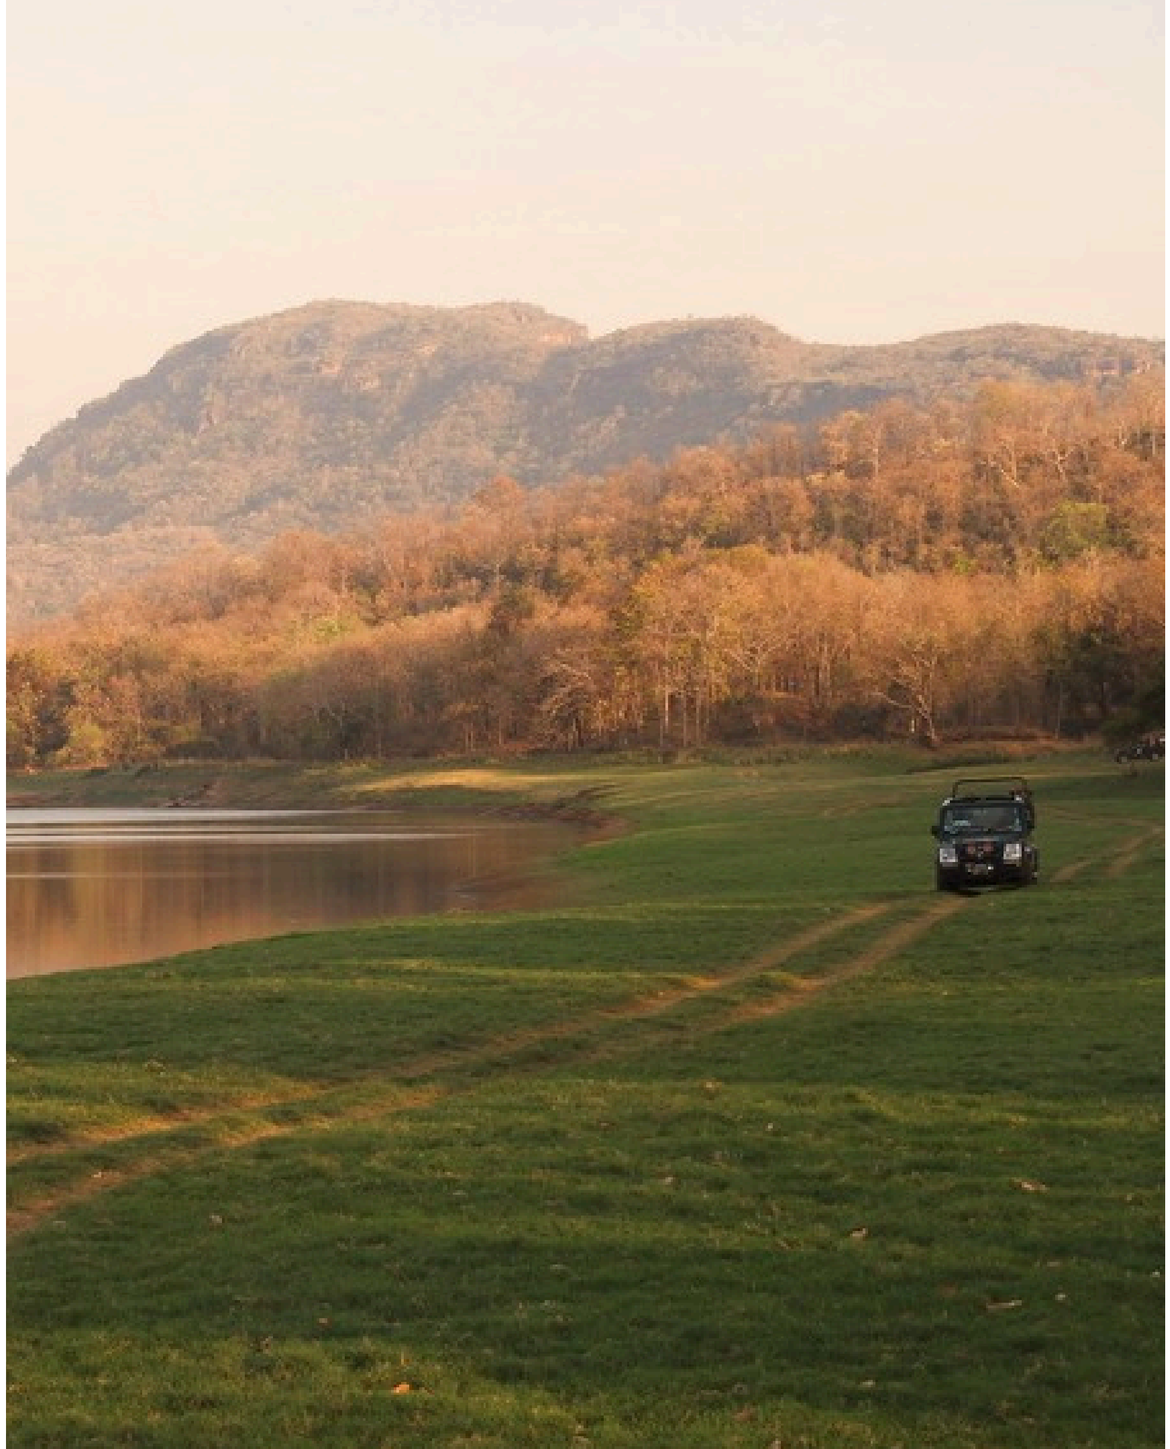

Nearest airports are Bhopal (220 km) and Jabalpur; Nagpur is also an option.

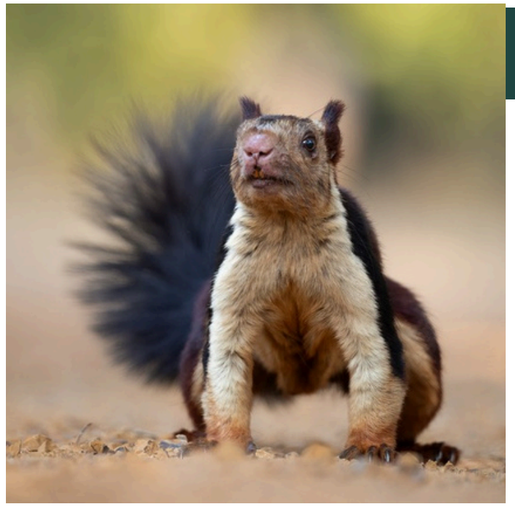

By Rail:

Closest stations are Itarsi, Sohagpur, Pipariya, and Narmadapuram.

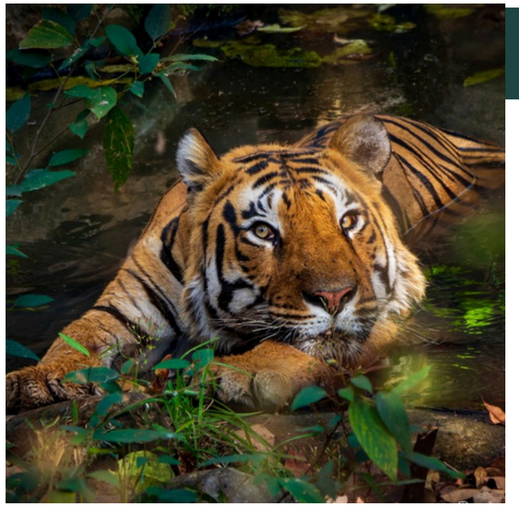

Best Time to Visit

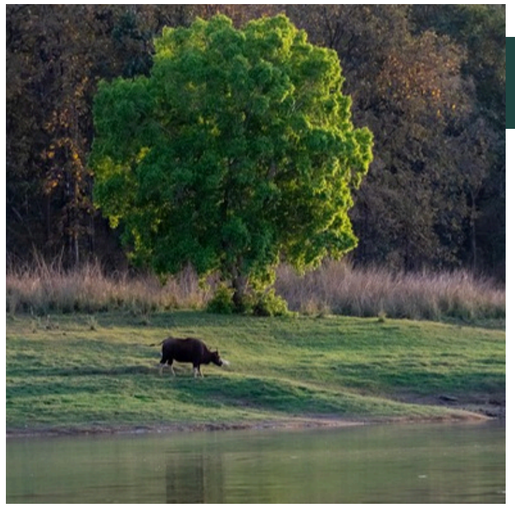

01

The ideal time to explore Satpura Tiger Reserve is from October to June, when the forest's weather is pleasant and wildlife sightings are at their best. The park officially remains open for visitors from 16th October to 30th June every year.

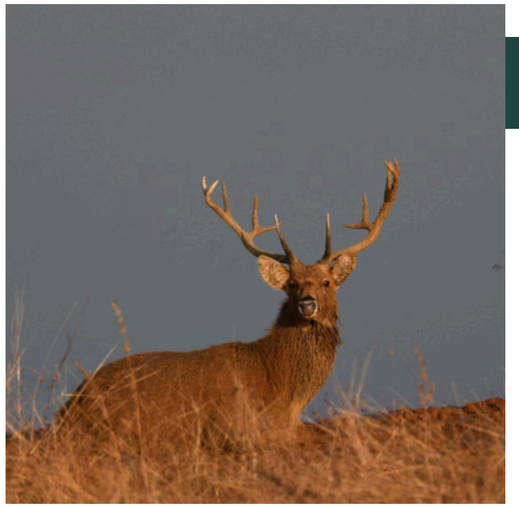

02

While the summer months of April, May, and June can be warm, they offer excellent opportunities to spot diverse wildlife near water sources. However, many visitors prefer the cooler months of October to March for a more comfortable experience.

03

Renowned for its rich biodiversity, Satpura Tiger Reserve is among the most favored destinations for wildlife enthusiasts, especially those interested in observing birds, mammals, and other species beyond tigers. Owing to its breathtaking landscapes and vibrant wildlife, the reserve stays busy throughout the tourist season.

04

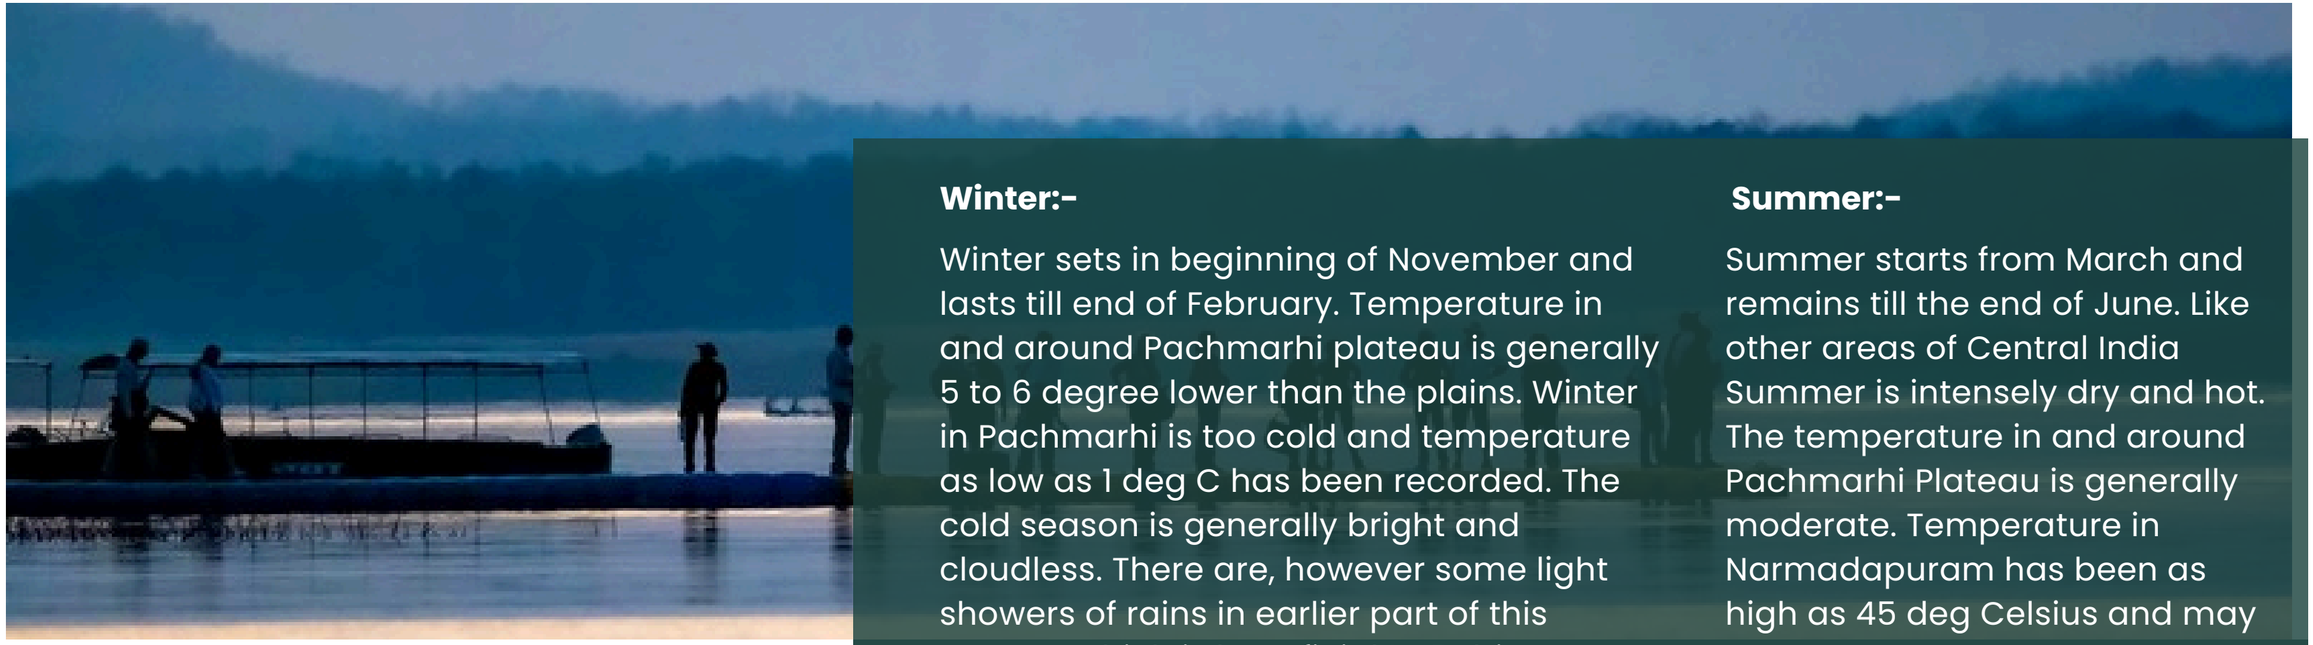

Since safari bookings are available online and tend to fill up quickly, it is advisable to plan and book your trip well in advance. Additionally, the Pachmarhi area remains open for tourists throughout the year, offering a wonderful experience even beyond the park's active season.

Park Safari Timing:-

- Morning: 06:30am to 10:00 am
- Evening: 04:00 pm to 06:00 pm

Park Timing:-

- Winter: Morning: 6 am to 10 pm | Evening: 2.30 pm to 5.30 pm
- Summer: Morning: 5:45 am to 9:30 am | Evening: 3 pm to 6.30 pm

Weather

There are three distinct seasons:

- Winter: the cold weather
- Summer: the hot weather and
- Monsoon: the rains.

Winter:-

Winter sets in beginning of November and lasts till end of February. Temperature in and around Pachmarhi plateau is generally 5 to 6 degree lower than the plains. Winter in Pachmarhi is too cold and temperature as low as 1 deg C has been recorded. The cold season is generally bright and cloudless. There are, however some light showers of rains in earlier part of this season, which is beneficial to Rabi crop, especially wheat.

Monsoon:-

The monsoon arrives approximately by the end of June and continues till September and October. The average rainfall of Narmadapurm district is 1300mm. Rainfall in Pachmarhi is much higher than rest of district, averaging around 1700mm. Temperature and rainfall were recorded by the forest department at Bori till 1941-42. For unknown reason this practice was stopped. Earlier data shows that Bori valley was receiving more rainfall than Pachmarhi.

Summer:-

Summer starts from March and remains till the end of June. Like other areas of Central India Summer is intensely dry and hot. The temperature in and around Pachmarhi Plateau is generally moderate. Temperature in Narmadapuram has been as high as 45 deg Celsius and may wary.

Frost:-

Frost occurs very frequently along the valleys of the rivers Bori, Denwa, Tawa, Nagdwari, Sonbhadra and their tributaries. There are some notable bad spots in the area e.g. Frost hole of Harrapala maidan where frost is experienced practically every year.

Eco Tourism

It is a form of tourism involving responsible travel (using sustainable transport) to natural areas, conserving the environment, and improving the well-being of the local people. Its purpose may be to educate the traveller, to provide funds for ecological conservation, to directly benefit the economic development and political empowerment of local communities, or to foster respect for different cultures and for human rights.
Generally, ecotourism deals with interaction with biotic components of the natural environments. Ecotourism focuses on socially responsible travel, personal growth, and environmental sustainability. Ecotourism typically involves travel to destinations where flora, fauna, and cultural heritage are the primary attractions. Ecotourism is intended to offer tourists an insight into the impact of human beings on the environment and to foster a greater appreciation of our natural habitats. Ecotourism aims at minimal environmental impact on the areas visited.

Places in Pachmarhi Sanctuary

S.No.	Place Name	Description
1.	Mahadeo-Chouragarh	Situated inside Pachmarhi Sanctuary, these hills are second and third highest peaks of Satpura ranges, having MSLs 1328 and 1308 M. respectively. These places are very important pilgrim centres as three important shrines viz. Bada Mahadeo, Gupt Mahadeo and ' Chauragarh are situated therein and a very big fair is held every year on Mahashivratri, which attracts around 3-5 lakh pilgrims. It is 10 km from Pachmarhi.
2.	Priyadarshini or Forsyth point	Priyadarshini point is situated in Compartment No. 301 of the Pachmarhi Sanctuary. Named after Captain James Forsyth (Bengal Lancers officer and discoverer of Pachmarhi).
3.	Apsara vihar	A pretty little bathing pool about two miles from Jai Stambh and about 2km from Pandav caves. This pool is by far the easiest in approach as compared to other pools. Apsara vihar is one of the most favourite swimming pool of the tourists. This cool pool gives a rich entertainment and Children enjoy swimming. Apsara Vihar is a good picnic point where one feels touch of nature's paradise. Rare medicinal plants are also available around this spot. One may explore up the valley since there are many picturesque rocky gorge overlooking the drop to Rajat Prapat the highest water fall in Central India.
4.	Rajat Prapat	Rajat Prapat is the highest water fall in Central India. It is only half km. from Apsara Vihar. The entire path to Rajat prapat is rib boned through scenic natural beauty. The stream flowing down through Apsara vihar drops over more than 350 feet in height forming Rajat Prapat. The volume of water is small except in rains but none the less this fall is worth seeing. The pool down below is about one and half km from the railings. The pool is deep and the water remains icy cool even during the summer.
5.	Gufa jal (Madadeo, Baniya beri, Putli line etc.)	----------
